Remote Access.

This Agreement permits Subscriber to provide off-site access to the Services for authorized users ("Remote Access"). Any Remote Access shall be provided only for individuals authenticated as affiliated with the Subscriber. Remote Access shall not be offered or knowingly made available to business entities or institutions (including, but not limited to, schools, universities, government agencies, or other libraries), and Subscriber will use its best efforts to inform authorized users that Remote Access is available to them only for personal use.

Subscriber agrees that it will not market or promote Remote Access to business entities or institutions and that Subscriber will terminate Remote Access to any location that Subscriber determines is a business entity or institution.

Terms of Use.

These Terms of Use govern your use of Encyclopaedia Britannica® Online and, unless other terms and conditions expressly govern, any other electronic services provided by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. ("Britannica") that may be available from time to time (collectively, the "Services").

General: Your use of the Services constitutes your agreement to these Terms of Use. If you do not agree with these Terms of Use, please do not use the Services. Britannica reserves the right to change, modify, add, or remove portions of these Terms of Use at any time.

Ownership: The content on the Services is the property of Britannica, its affiliated companies or licensors and is protected by international copyright, patent, and trademark laws changes.

Use of Content: You may display, print or download content on the Services only for your personal, non-commercial use, provided you do not remove or alter any copyright, trademark, service mark or other proprietary notices or legends. You may not publish, distribute, retransmit, sell or provide access to the content on the Services, except as permitted under applicable law and as described in these Terms of Use.

You may not engage in systematic retrieval of content from the Services to create or compile, directly or indirectly, a collection, compilation, database, or directory without written permission from Britannica. Nor may you mirror on your own site the home page or results pages of the Services.

If you want to post, publish, or use content from (or contained within) the Services on your Web site or in any other Internet activity, you will need permission from Britannica, even though your Web site or Internet activity is free of charge. Requests should be directed to this syndication form.
